LAW MAKERS PURSUED BY MOB

Tokio Parliament Building Be-seized by Angry Rioters—Solons Chased Out

RIOT RESULT WHITEWASH IN NAVAL GRAFT AFFAIR

People Desperate from Inhuman Taxation—Laborers Taxed 50 Per Cent Earnings

TOKIO, Feb. 10.—Pursued by a mob, Japanese lawmakers were chased today from the parliament building when they whitewashed an attempt to censure the government for permitting alleged grafting in the navy. When informed that the minority party would present a censuring resolution, a mob of 50,000 people gathered in Hibiya Park and demanded its passage in fiery speeches. When the news came that the censuring resolution had been defeated by a vote of 205 to 164, the huge mob rushed the parliament building. The police and troops fought them back and many were injured. The offending parliamentarians fled, many of them leaving the city. The mob stormed the pro-government newspaper offices, but was finally dispersed after others had been injured. The anti-government display was the most serious in recent Japanese history. Inhuman taxation is said to be responsible. It is estimated that even laboring men are now contributing fifty per cent of their earnings to taxation.

LAWMAKERS SMUGGLED FROM BUILDING UNDER A GUARD

The lawmakers were smuggled from the parliament building under guard while the police fought the crowd in front. Sentinels have been posted at the homes of those living in Tokio. Many of the lawmakers took refuge with friends. Meanwhile fierce rioting was in progress. The police guarded the government buildings, but the mob stoned the street cars. At 10 o'clock tonight the mob still filled the streets but is quieter. Trouble is feared, however, before morning.

LEWIS BUNDY IS SENTENCED TO HANG

Young Murderer Sobs as He Hears Doom Set for April 24—Sister Hysterical

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10.—Lewis Bundy, aged 18, the murdered of Harold Ziesche, aged 15, was sentenced today by Judge Willis to be hanged at San Quentin, April 24. Bundy was apparently dumbfounded by the sentence. His surly attitude vanished, and he buried his face in his hands and sobbed loudly. His sister Josephine threw her arms about her brother, shrieking hysterically: "He won't hang. You can't hang him." Bundy was half led and half carried from the courtroom to his cell. Bundy killed Ziesche last December, hurling him to a lonely spot where he beat the young boy to death with a club and a rock to get money to buy a Christmas present for a girl.

Howard, late president of the Western Fuel Company of San Francisco, who died in Oakland. Announcement was made yesterday that Judge H. H. Rolaph of the Amalgamated Sugar Company of Ogden had been selected a chairman of the committee.

Railroad Officials Who Want Increased Rates

George A. Post, Newman Erb

George A. Post, president of the Railway Business Association, has come forth against the bill of Representative Esch, which requires substitution of steel cars for wooden cars on all railroads. This work was to be done in four years under the provisions of the bill. But Mr. Post showed Mr. Esch some figures to prove that the cost of the change would be $32,000,000, something which could not be done without an advance in the freight rates on all roads.

This position is upheld by Newman Erb, president of the Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad. He insists that it is impossible for the railroads to increase their facilities out of earnings or surpluses. "I have reached the conviction that rates must be increased to enable the railroads to meet part of their requirements from surplus earnings and improve their credit to enable them to obtain the means necessary to meet the transportation needs of a growing country."

His railroad reports a surplus of $452,000 for the year ended June 30, equivalent to 7.64 per cent on the preferred stock, compared with a deficit the previous year of $677,000.

TUNNEL FIRED TO CHECK PURSUIT GUARDS IS HUERTA

Member of Band Destroying Cumbre Tunnel Caught at Hachita, New Mexico

SAYS BANDITS UNAWARE OF PASSENGER TRAIN

Three Bodies of Victims of Horror Recovered—Searching Progresses Slowly

HACHITA, N. M., Feb. 10.—Declared to be a captain under Maximino Castillo, the bandit leader accused of destroying the Cumbre tunnel, causing a wreck of the Mexican North-western passenger train with a loss of more than fifty lives, Emilio Garcia was arrested today by American troops. He is being held for instructions from General Scott. He admitted that he was one of the band destroying the tunnel. The bandits had suffered defeat on February 3 in a battle with the Constitutionalists, he said. Reaching the tunnel in flight they mined it, pushed a freight train in and set it on fire, intending to destroy the tunnel to check pursuit. There was no thought of injuring non-combatants. If they had known of the passenger train that was following, they would have warned the crew, Garcia said. He declared Castillo and his followers are just across the line ready to join Villa if given favorable terms.

THREE VICTIMS OF CUMBRE TUNNEL ARE RECOVERED

CUMBRE, Mexico, Feb. 10.—The bodies of two more victims of the Cumbre tunnel disaster were recovered today. The total recovered is now three. The searchers are working slowly, and it is believed it will be two weeks before the tunnel can be cleared.

SORROW UNITES ESTRANGED BROTHERS

Banker Raines Visited in Cell by Publisher Brother—Offers to Give All to Aid Him

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 10.—After an estrangement of years during which neither spoke to the other, President C. Hunter Raines of the Mercantile Bank and his brother, Gilbert Raines, owner of the News-Scimitar, were reconciled today. Gilbert returning after an absence, learned of his brother's predicament as the result of his shortage at the Mercantile Bank. He visited the jail, shook hands with his brother and offered to sell his entire property to aid him. Accountants believe that the bank's shortage will reach a million and a half dollars.

Cashier to Be Prosecuted
Prosecutor Estes of Shelby county is preparing to bring charges against Cashier Claude Anderson of accepting deposits when he knew the Mercantile Bank was insolvent. Estes has received scores of requests for the prosecution of the bank's directors and officers. At first he refused, but later decided to bring criminal proceedings against Anderson.

President Raines is expected to appear before the grand jury today. It is expected he will repeat his confession. He occupies a fine room in the county jail, and plays solitaire continually.

GOVERNOR AND JUDGE SPURN ROCKEFELLER MONEY FOR NORTH CAROLINA UNIVERSITY

Governor Craig of North Carolina and United States Judge J. C. Pritchard, as trustees for the state university, have no use for the money of John D. Rockefeller, and they have spurned an offer of $50,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation for the Young Men's Christian Association of the institution. The governor and judge took this action at a meeting of the trustees at Raleigh. They said the university was a state institution, and should not seek aid outside the state. It was urged by some trustees that other institutions were getting Rockefeller Foundation money, and that the university here had been promised $50,000 if the alumni raised $25,000. The incident provoked sharp differences between state officials, but was settled by defeating the movement for the Rockefeller gift.

HOW THE DIRECT PRIMARY LAW WILL WORK FOR BOTH VOTERS AND CANDIDATES

That many, very many people do not understand the new primary election law is unquestionably a fact. And it is no less an unquestionable fact that it is important that all voters should understand this law.

The Riverside Press has evidently made a careful study of the law, and gives an editorial summary of it that is clear and brief, as follows:

For the first time since the direct primary law was passed in California, the voter who "declines to state" his party affiliation, or in other words is an independent in politics, will have the opportunity this fall to vote at the primaries as well as the regular election. Judicial, educational and county officers are now placed on a non-partisan basis and everybody will have a chance to participate in the primaries which will determine the choice of two candidates to run for each of these offices.

The man who wants to run for judge, for state superintendent of schools, for county superintendent of schools, or for any other county office, will circulate a non-partisan petition in order to get on the primary ballot. Any voter can sign it and the number of signatures required is small. The laws says, "not less than one-half of one per cent, nor more than two per centum of the total vote cast by all political parties at the last election in the state or political subdivision thereof in which the candidate seeks nomination." In this county the minimum requirement would be 53 signatures and the maximum 212. It will certainly be no great trouble to get that number.

A special non-partisan ballot must be printed for the primaries and this will contain only the names of the judicial, educational and county officers. The same list will appear on all the party ballots for the primaries, but as an entirely separate proposition. The Progressive, Republican or Democrat, for instance, who votes at the primary will have a list of his party nominees for the various state offices (except judicial and educational) and in a separate column the list of non-partisan nominations.

The party nominations will be determined as heretofore by pluralities and the candidates who poll the highest party vote for the various offices will be the nominees of that party for the November election. All votes for the judicial, educational and county officers will be totaled and the two aspirants having the highest vote will compete at the regular election in November. If any one receives a clear majority of the total vote at the primary, he will be the only primary candidate to run in November, the majority nomination being practically equivalent to an election. The plan.

Boy Scout is to locate at least one sick person who is in need or alone in the world, and make at least one visit during the week to the afflicted. If possible, flowers are to be taken to the sick. Each Boy Scout also has pledged himself and his superior officer, beginning today, to give aid or help, however small, to at least one person every day of the week. Many thousands of Boy Scouts all over the country sought out sick persons yesterday afternoon and took them flowers. In thousands of instances "follow-up visits" will be made during the week.

Irish Home Rule and Welsh Church Bills and Woman Suffrage Will Liven Session

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party, was the slogan today when, obedient to the urgent summonses of the whips, legislators made their way to Westminster for the opening of the fourth session of King George's first Parliament. The early morning rush of members to appropriate the best seats for the session was larger than usual, for among the measures scheduled to be placed on the statute books this year are the Irish Home Rule bill and the Welsh Church Disestablishment bill, both of which will become laws automatically under the terms of the veto act, after being passed for the third time by the Commons and rejected by the Lords. These bills probably will be passed in the Commons by the government's normal majority, but the Unionists intend fighting every inch of the way in the hope of turning out their opponents on a "snap" decision, such as they engineered on the financial clauses of the Home Rule bill when it first came up for passage.

With Mrs. Pankhurst, Miss Annie Kenney and other leading suffragette "mice" back from their recuperation on the Continent, extraordinary police precautions were taken to prevent any interference with today's ceremony by the militants, who had announced their intention of personally presenting a petition to King George. Chief of Police Sir Edward Henry was in command, and plainclothes men swarmed around and among the spectators lining the route from Buckingham Palace to the House of Parliament.

Superintendent Quinn of Scotland Yard, known among the women as "the chief cat," a quiet little gray-haired man in Prince Albert coat and silk hat, was a conspicuous figure walking alongside of the big gilded coach bearing the King and Queen. Gaily clad Yeomen of the Guard, in their quaint Tudor uniforms of scarlet and gold, trudged on either side. Shortly before 10 o'clock a detachment of Yeomen marched to Westminster to perform their historic duty of searching the vaults under Parliament for possible imitators of Guy Fawkes. Four thousand soldiers of the Brigade of Guards were on duty in the streets when, just after noon, their Majesties rode in state along the Mall, Whitehall and Parliament street, behind eight cream-colored Hanoverian ponies, and under the escort of several squadrons of cuirassiers and Life Guards, the headquarters staff of the army and high officers of state. Great crowds lined the route and gave the monarch and his consort the usual hearty greeting.

On their arrival at the royal entrance to the House of Lords an imposing procession headed by trumpeters and heralds was formed and made its way to the legislative chamber, where the peers and peeresses in robes and coronets were assembled. Ambassador Walter Hines Page, with Mrs. Page were spectators in the diplomatic gallery, the former in sober black evening clothes.

The King and Queen having taken their seats on the throne, Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, Sir Henry Stephenson was dispatched to the members of the House of Commons, who shortly afterwards appeared headed by Speaker Lowther, Premier Asquith, and members of the cabinet. Lord Haldane, the Lord High Chancellor, knelt and presented to his sovereign the parchment, containing the cabinet-prepared speech formally opening the session.

The speech from the throne referred to the intended reintroduction of the Home Rule, Welsh Disestablishment, and the Anti-Plural Voting bills (the last of which is up for second passage under the veto act), and announced that proposals would be laid before Parliament by the government for the reform of the House of Lords, and for legislation regarding land ownership.

The principal fight of the session will center on the Home Rule Bill. Although the measure will become law automatically as soon as it has been rejected by the Lords, it is not yet known just what policy the peers propose to adopt. It is suggested that by deferring consideration they can avoid the provisions of the veto act, which says that a bill must be rejected or not passed during the session. Some argue that if the session is prorogued before the Lords have taken up the bill, it cannot become a law, but the government legal experts dispute this contention.

Woman's suffrage will also lead to lively debate, as a private member's bill on the subject will certainly be introduced. Notices of 132 bills have already been filed with the clerk of the House, and the promoters who have to ballot for precedence will likely come to an arrangement whereby a woman's bill will be assured of a good place in the list.

There will be considerable discussion on the navy estimates, and a strong section of the liberal economists will make a determined attack on First Lord of the Admiralty

Canadian Girl Skiing
Down Mount Royal

Here is a live Canadian girl, who isn't afraid of one of the most dangerous sports—skiing down Mount Royal at Montreal. Having started high on the hillside, she is coming down at a rate of speed that ought to take her breath away, but she is absolutely sure on her feet. It is a sport unknown to most Americans. Tobogganing and skiing are the most popular sports of Canada in the winter. There are hillsides in the United States where Americans might practise them, but so far the sports have not been taken up.

Winston Churchill's "biggest ever" appropriation. This is a source of real danger to the government, for although the Unionists would ordinarily support Churchill against the economists, whom they call the "Suicide Club," Bonar Law may deem it good politics to draw off his party at a critical moment and allow the government to meet defeat at the hands of its followers. Such a defeat would, of course, necessitate immediate resignation.

M'PHERSON HOUSE SHIPPING LARGE CROP

Orange News: With more than half of its navel crop already marketed, the McPherson Heights Citrus Association is still carrying on a strenuous campaign and is shoving forward an average of more than two cars per day. Over 40 pickers are being employed in the orchards controlled by the association. The greater part of the remainder of its navel crop will probably be moved during February and March.

The crop in that district this year has proven to be somewhat larger than normal and of fine quality, although at the present time, due to weather and tree conditions, it is deteriorating. At the first of the year Manager Post of the association placed the navel crop at 65 cars for the season from that association. By February 1 he was compelled to raise the estimate to 75 and still thinks that may be a conservative figure. At the present time 40 cars of navels have been shipped.

The recent rains have induced puffing in the fruit and there is a tendency to dropping and the outlook is that most of the crop will not hang on the trees as long as usual.

John Kraft, a recent arrival in this city from North Dakota, has purchased a 7-acre lemon grove from Dr. William Freeman. The ranch is located on East Collins avenue and the new owner will take immediate possession. Dutton Brothers of this city handled the deal.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Keep Her Locks Dark,
Glossy, Thick

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the nutmeg mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.—Advertisement.

"THE INSIDE OF THE CUP" AS REVIEWED

Monday Club Hears an Able Treatment of Churchill's Book by C. H. Stearns

An exceedingly interesting review and estimate of the much discussed book, Winston Churchill's "Inside of the Cup," was given by Chas. H. Stearns before the Monday Club last evening. Mr. Stearns' treatment was not only a clear, succinct outline of the book itself, but included an interpretation of the issues involved which bore evidence of thoughtful study of the general theme. By way of introduction Mr. Stearns said:

"When a seer, with a clear, far vision of a truth having a vital connection with the welfare of the whole people, combines with that vision the ability to so group and arrange a series of the common human experiences and situations as to vividly and adequately portray that truth, there is produced what is known as a 'best seller'—a book about which every one talks and which stimulates and energizes the forces which make for human progress. Such books as Bunyan's 'Pilgrim's Progress,' the writings of Shakespeare and Milton and Dante, 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' and many of the narratives of the Bible come into this class. Winston Churchill has produced several such books. None of them, however, approach in importance of the truth revealed, his latest production, 'The Inside of the Cup.'"

The larger theme of the "Inside of the Cup" is the story of a clear-cut fight for the soul of a church. The preacher is face to face with the problem of dealing with a man who stands for the church and who is, so far as the greater Christian virtues are concerned, a white sepulcher. The minor theme which runs along side of the larger one, is the story of a man who at the start is hardly aware that there is an intellectual or a social problem, and whose coming into this knowledge is a rebirth into the world of strife.

"Any experience," says Churchill, "that elevates a soul into a sublimer life is a spiritual experience. When a man finds a cause he can live for absorbingly and for which, indeed, he would even dare to die, then his personality becomes incandescent. It can fire other personalities. And this passionate enthusiasm for something is what for a true man makes life worth living."

The book teaches two great lessons: First, that influence is through personality. And the second is that truth becomes vital and luminous only when we live it. We must hold our orthodoxy and not let our orthodox hold us. In the regeneration of Mr. Hodder we have, probably, autobiographical material. Churchill is trying here to show his own awakening to the reality and vitality of the real Christianity as taught by the master Christian. The intellectual struggle may be described too much in detail, and the arguments presented sometimes lack the convincing force which moved Hodder from point to point. In this respect it is perhaps less complete and convincing than Mrs. Ward's description of the transformation of Robert Elsmere. But here we have a fresher and more vital interpretation of Christianity. One radical difference between the two is the fact that Mrs. Ward, while she would destroy and rebuild the church, loves the existing social order. Churchill, on the other hand, would reform the church and restore it to its proper functions; enable it to vivify religion and through that remodel our social and economic and political systems, which to him are rotten to the core.

is in a degree lacking in warmth. You are in a measure unable to feel it. You have to be told it is there. Alison Parr is a somewhat artificial person. She is an individualist and does much to influence Hodder and show him the real situations. She does not at all times seem like a real flesh and blood woman. There is in her personality, however, an attempt to portray the developing type of womanhood, representing the unrest that results from the repression of developing feminine personality.

Churchill has attempted to outline the problem that present day civilization puts up to the church. If it is worth while to save to our civilization the Christian church as a means of uplift and a beacon on the road, the book is worth while. If the church has outlived its usefulness, as a few people have seemed to think, then perhaps it was not worth doing, except as it might help outline the trail for whatever new institution might arise to do the work the church is supposed to do. Most of us are of the opinion that so far from having outlived its usefulness, the Christian church has hardly started on its legitimate career. If we are right, then Churchill has performed a very real service in so sharply stating the problem. The book has called forth a torrent of criticism, favorable and unfavorable. If enough people talk, some few will be induced to think, and just as surely as a sufficient number of people once get to thinking seriously on the economic and social problem there will be something effective accomplished in removing some of the barbaric tendencies of our present day civilization.

A very animating discussion by the club prolonged the meeting beyond 10 o'clock.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR

KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and to doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Advertisement.

After Dinner Chats With Walnut Growers

By Dr. J. G. Berneike, Corresponding Secretary of the Orange County Dried Fruit Association.

As I have said, the associations were compelled to establish a new grade, that of "budded nuts," when they had come to be produced in commercial quantity, and outside buyers were paying the growers more for them than for the seedling walnuts. It was necessary to hold the members who produced budded nuts and to attract the outside growers.

Outside buyers have taken another step in grading and again the association must follow suit. I have it on good authority that it has been practically decided to do this next year. It will prove of considerable advantage to the members of the association, and it will be an improvement in the appearance of the No. 1 soft shell grade.

This new grade will consist of extra large nuts, taken out of the seedlings. We know that No. 2 are those that pass through a one-inch screen. These, selling at a lower price, lower the average price the grower receives for his crop. The screen to be adopted for the new grade may be one and one-quarter inch. This, at least, is the size screen used by outside buyers who have introduced this new grade. Let us see how this will work out for the grower, by supposing a case. Say there is a one-ton crop of walnuts, consisting of 10 per cent No. 2s at 10 cents net per pound, 70 per cent No. 1s at 14 cents net, and 20 per cent new grade at 16 cents. The grower would receive for 200 pounds of No. 2s, $20, for 1400 pounds of No. 1s, $196, for 400 pounds of new grade, $64; a total of $280. Under the old grading he would receive only $272. In this particular case the extra large nuts would make up exactly the loss on the small sized nuts. This shows the benefit to the grower of seedling walnuts.

There are some orchards with grafted trees, but not the Placencia Perfection. The walnuts from these groves do not correspond to the standard of budded nuts set by the association. And yet, outside buyers will pay a higher price for these than for seedlings, whereas the association must either pass them in as seedlings, or the grower must hand-sort them to get out all those nuts that will pass for budded, and let the rest go as seedlings. In either case the grower fares better selling on the outside. And it is only loyalty to the association, and to the principle of co-operation that could hold him inside. I happen to know of one case where the grower, a member of the association, could have had about $40 more for a ton lot, if sold to an outside buyer, than he received by selling through the association. As members of the association must look facts like these squarely in the face and seek a remedy. The establishment of this new grade would have largely obviated this loss to the grower, because there was a large per cent of nuts in this ton lot that would have fallen into the extra large grade, and brought a better price. The difficulties in harvesting presented to the growers during the past season made them look for some quicker and cheaper means of hulling than hand hulling. A good part of the crop was hulled by machine, and this eased the situation in the matter of labor considerably. Since it was, however, necessary to wet the nuts in order to remove the hulls, it became also necessary to dry them well before delivery, lest they should mould. To dry them quickly, without having them split open, was the great desideratum. If exposed to the hot sun, they would split and become culls. Again there were foggy days when they would not dry. Quite a little loss was experienced by some growers who could not dry the walnuts fast enough to prevent mould. So we need to go still further in improving our methods of harvesting walnuts. I believe the trouble can be remedied by subjecting the walnuts to a power blast after they come from the hulling machine. The operation of harvesting could be simplified and cheapened by first gathering the nuts, delivering them to the hulling machine. Then have them pass over a belt carrier to pick out those that require hand hulling, and also culls, and have the hulled nuts go to the power blast, after which they might be culled once more, and sacked ready for delivery. It would take but a small crew to handle such a machine. A few machines doing custom work, scattered in the walnut district, could take care of the small orchards, whereas a 20-acre orchard might have its own machine. Or neighbors could co-operate in the use of one machine. I can see no good reason why the harvesting of walnuts may not be simplified greatly in the next few years.

And there is still another item of loss which could be minimized by the co-operation of growers in the association. That is with reference to culls. In seeking information on this subject I wrote to Mr. Dargity, formerly manager of the California Almond growers' Exchange. He replied that the exchange had last year sold some 80,000 pounds of almond meats at 31 cents a pound. Now, in the East, walnut meats and almond meats sell generally at the same price or nearly so. It looks therefore, reasonable that our walnut meats should bring us a fair price, which they often fail to do. This is not blaming local dealers, at all. We as growers should join in seeking a wider market, and a possibly better local market can possibly be accomplished through our associations and through the Walnut Growers' Exchange. And it should be done as promptly as possible.

The demand for co-operation is growing on every hand, and I expect to see in the near future that the walnut growers will join the process for more co-operation.

HAPPENINGS IN ROME

(By Henry Wood.)

ROME, Feb. 10.—The United States is to be given the first chance of taking the lead for the realization of the Ideal City that is to serve as a world-conscience center of all international effort. This is the decision of Hendrick Christian Andersen, founder of the project, who has just returned to his headquarters at Rome after having presented his idea and perfected plans to three more European rulers. All of these pledged to the fullest support of their respective countries. They were even anxious to take the lead at once in making the project into execution. As an American citizen, however, Andersen has quite decided that Uncle Sam must have at least the first chance of doing this.

In making this decision Andersen declares he is in no way daunted by the hard luck experience in America of David Lubin. When the latter, at his home in Los Angeles, conceived an International Institute of Agriculture that would bring the whole world of agriculture into harmony and that would give to the whole world the benefit of whatever agricultural discoveries and science that might be developed in some particular country, he, too, patriotically felt that the United States should have the first chance of making it a reality. Lubin, however, was practically turned out of the State Department and other government offices at Washington as a crank. Then he came to Italy with his idea and was warmly welcomed by King Victor Emanuel. Italy at once built a magnificent palace to house the institute and invited the nations of the world to join. At the present time 54 of the principal agricultural countries of the world maintain permanent representatives at Rome, instead of in America as might have been the case, and the institute is now the largest international undertaking of its kind in the world.

Andersen's colossal plan for an ideal city, in which every organization in the world which has for its object the betterment of mankind can have its headquarters, has been presented to ten of the leading European countries. By all of them it was enthusiastically received. On his last trip, the founder placed the plans, which during the 14 years he has been working on them have been perfected down to the smallest architectural and engineering detail, before the King of Belgium, the government of France and the Prince of Monaco.

It was with actual difficulty that Andersen refused the insistent offers of the King of Belgium for the immediate construction and housing of the city on a tract of land near Brussels. This site had been set aside by the late King Leopold for a somewhat similar purpose and the present King was most anxious that Belgium should be the future home of the world's center of international efforts. The actual location of the city, however, Anderson has decided, must be selected by the interparliamentary Union at the Hague after the various countries desiring to have it present their respective claims.

At Paris Andersen presented his plans in a lecture at the Sorbonne and later at a banquet attended by Leon Bourgeois and all of the leading political, literary, scientific and artistic men of France. The reception of it there was such that Andersen is hopeful that France, and the United States, as the two leading republics of the world, may be able to find a common ground on which they can take the lead in the matter. The last presentation of the project before returning to Rome was then made to the Prince of Monaco, who already has a world-wide reputation for the international research work he has done in marine studies and for the immense marine museum he has erected at Monte Carlo. He declared that the perfect plans of Andersen materialized what had been the dream of his entire life, namely an international center for the arts, sciences, industries, religions and humanitarian work of the entire world. His approval and support was as unqualified as that of the King of Italy and other foreign monarchs to whom Andersen had previously presented his plans.

The next definite step to be taken by Andersen in the realization of his project is the calling of a congress, probably in 1915, at which not only the nations of the world will be officially represented but all the great international societies and congresses of the world. Because of the fact that the governments will be represented at this it is necessary that the invitation to them be extended by one of the leading powers. All of the governments to whom Andersen has already presented his plans have expressed their willingness to take this initiative lead, but it is precisely this that Andersen would prefer to have done by his own country.

Within the next six months he will present to President Wilson and Secretary Bryan the full plans as they have been laid before the leading European governments. An invitation from them to the other governments to participate in the 1915 congress Andersen feels would come with particularly good grace because of the efforts they have already made to secure world-wide arbitration treaties and other concerted international action. Andersen expects at the same time to present his project to the leading societies in the United States and all will be given the same opportunity that has already been

MAKE THEM "MAKE GOOD"

The platform proposed by the Republican conference at Santa Barbara, by claiming credit also assumes responsibility for most of the progressive (and Progressive) legislation of the past few years. It also embodies and espouses many of the principles for which the Progressive party and Progressive Republicans generally stand.

As this conference was, unquestionably, of reactionary origin and under reactionary control, it would seem that the leaders did not dare to propose a reactionary platform. As Governor Johnson truly said in his keynote speech at the birth of the Progressive party in California, no man dares run for office who does not at least claim to be devoted to Progressive principles, and no party dares propose any platform that is not imbued with the spirit of Progressiveism.

Whether the Santa Barbara platform is the result of Progressive Republican strength in the meeting, or is merely a sop thrown to the Cerberus of Progressivism, it certainly seems to indicate that if the Progressive Republicans will just stand by their guns, they can probably force the nomination of real Progressive Republicans, including Governor Johnson. It is certainly up to the Progressive Republicans to come in out of the rain by joining the Progressive party or to make the reactionaries make good their professions of Progressivism. In either event all progressive Republicans—those who register as Republicans as well as those who register as Progressives—can then vote for the re-election of the best governor California ever had—as most of them will, anyway, no matter how they register.

STATESMANSHIP AND WEALTH

The death of "Uncle" Shelby Cullom, for thirty years senator from Illinois, has peculiar interest as a passing of an old type of statesmanship.

Some one once said that "Mr. Cullom was poor when he entered the senate and has been growing poorer ever since." This turns out to be wrong, as Mr. Cullom had a fair-sized estate, as modern standards go. His simple and unostentatious habits of life, however, stamped him as belonging to that older school of statesmanship that maintained Spartan indifference to the allurements of wealth.

The opportunities for money making offered in so long a political career as Mr. Cullom's could easily have made him a millionaire. Up to a decade or two ago public opinion was very loose in these respects. If a congressman took advantage of his inside information, to buy or sell stocks likely to be affected by pending action, nothing was thought of it. Such occurrences were too common to attract attention.

"Uncle" Shelby must have seen these chances incessantly for thirty years. He never made loud professions of superior virtue, but somehow these enticements were foreign to his simple and clean nature.

Of course there are many opportunities for money making offered to prominent statesmen that are legitimate. Audiences almost anywhere would have assessed themselves fifty cents a head to see and hear so conspicuous and picturesque a figure in the political theater. But "Uncle" Shelby belonged to an older race of public men who were principally interested in ideas of government, and money making seemed an uninteresting side issue.

Whatever one may think of Mr. Cullom's political opinions, this imperviousness to the subtle influences of cash in politics, this indifference to the money-getting drift of the times, must command respect.

ELECTION BRIBERY

In the old days when politics were supposed to be more corrupt than at present, it was unlawful for a man to bribe another in order to have him vote in a manner different from what he might vote if left alone.

Nowadays votes may be secured by bribery at a much less sum of money than in the old days. When one signs a referendum petition against an act of the legislature, it is just the same as though he went to the polls and voted to suspend the operation of the act.

Instead, however, of directly bribing the man who signs the petition, the paid agent who gets the signature is the one who is bribed. This agent is bribed for the pitiful sum of five or seven or ten cents a name. He may be working against his own interests and the interests of his family, but as a rule he is a "low brow" who cannot see any further than the pitiful price that is thrust under his nose by the "special interest" which is using him as a tool to corrupt the politics of the state of California.

The Initiative and Referendum laws of this state are all right. An Act should be passed, however, making it a felony or a misdemeanor to pay or accept money for getting signatures to a referendum or initiative petition. If the measure is worthy of support or deserves defeat, as the case may be, it will not be necessary to circulate petitions through hirelings. There are plenty of patriotic men and women in California who are always ready and willing to give their time and strength to the cause of good government.

It was through the hired circulators of petitions that certain Progressive measures, among which was the State Water Commission Act, were held up in 1913. Not because the majority of the people wanted them held up, but because a number of "floaters," longshoremen and indifferent voters, carelessly or corruptly allowed their names to be used against such Progressive legislation.

"Spotted" Fruit

"Spotted" fruit has been causing considerable trouble in the eastern markets again this season. The trouble has not been confined to northern shipments, but has also shown up in many of the southern shipments. It has not been confined to any one district, but has been quite general.

The theory advanced by Mr. R. P. Cundiff, for so many years the able horticultural commissioner of Riverside county—that dewdrops forming on the tender orange after heavy dews in September and early October, at a time of year when the sun has great power, by focussing the sun's rays, practically acting as a burning glass, destroyed or burned the cells of the orange skin, seems a well founded one.

Very little mark shows on the orange when it matures, but as the fruit "sweats out" in field box or packed box, conditions are created favoring fungus growth and the development of the brown spots so noticeable in some of the fruit on its arrival at its eastern destination.

Mr. Cundiff states that his investigations, covering a number of years, have shown that the spots are practically confined to the fruit first struck by the rays of the morning sun, and growing on trees situated on "side-hills." They have been noticeable only in seasons following heavy dews the previous September and October. Dry falls, with many drying north winds, have not produced the trouble.

Recent investigations at many of the packing houses reporting these spots have all agreed that all cars so affected contained some "side hill" fruit. Again, in taking up the matter at the Exchange headquarters, Mr. Dezell, assistant general manager, stated that the trouble tended to disappear as the season advanced; which would bear out Mr. Cundiff's theory in that the side-hill or foothill fruit is the earliest to ripen, and consequently the first to go forward to market.

The Political Watchtower

Last week was a right lively week. Committee had a meeting, and our in the political pasture. The Watch-city clerk, Joe Burke, burst forth in man's spy glass found a number of the list of the county's political interesting corners upon which toators. He waved the Stars and focus the magnifier, and observed stripes and swung in the names of signs of things stirring.

Even the birds are singing "Spring Kinley with a vim that made the city is coming," and none can doubt that all ring. If he keeps up that pace this spring is going to find a good someone will be taking him by the many political battles programmed nape of the neck and shoving him for the ideas of August and November into a race for office.

ber—if not exactly the ideas, then some other dates in those two months.

Sam Shortridge is going to be in Santa Ana. You ought to know who the Republican County Central Sam Shortridge is? Yes? Why, or course he is the same old standpat general utility man of these many years. He wants to be a United States Senator from California, which is quite a worthy ambition, for any man, but we are of the opinion that California will never again elect a man of Shortridge's political proclivities.

So there is going to be a North End candidate for district attorney in the person of City Attorney Emerson J. Marks of Fullerton. The Fullerton Tribune says Marks' friends have been everlastingly asking him to run, and Marks appears willful. And there is no question about Marks having a lot of friends. They say he is mighty strong in the north end of the county, and he has a goodly bunch of friends here, where he was raised, graduating from the Santa Ana High School some years ago. If he runs, and District Attorney L. A. West, with his hosts of friends, tries for re-election—and it is generally conceded that he will run, or is running—there will be an interesting go. There has been more or less talk from time to time that Steele Finley would also be out as a candidate for district attorney, but as yet the Watchman has heard no word traceable to Finley to back up the talk.

The Democrats seem to have done little toward organizing for the coming battle. The Progressives and Republicans have held meetings, but the Democrats seem to have been keeping quiet, attending to postoffice prospects, sawing wood, reading the Santa Ana Bulletin and enjoying the warm reflectant glow of the White House fireplace. But from Chairman H. C. Head and Secretary C. D. Overhiner down to the newest voter, the Democrats are counting on getting in no question but that the Democrats are going to make a fight for your life to keep Congressman Kethner where he is. Locally there has been no effort among them to get out a full county ticket, and the Watchman gets it that the leaders see no reason for taking action to proceed otherwise than the non-partisan law intends shall be the case; that is, let those run who will.

There will be several Democrats among the candidates for county offices. Among them are County Assessor James Sleeper, County Treasurer J. C. Joplin and Supervisor Jasper Leck, all of whom are candidates for re-election. Constable C. E. Jackson of Santa Ana, who is out for sheriff, and E. J. Marks of Fullerton, for district attorney.

Add to that list, if you will, John Cook of Anaheim, who is persistently reported to be more than likely to be among the five or six men who will be running for sheriff.

If only two candidates appear for a county or township office, the decision as to who shall fill the office will be made at the August primaries. Under the new non-partisan primary law, a candidate securing a majority of the votes cast at the primary is the only person nominated, and his name only of those who were candidates will go on the ballot in November. It is possible where there are three or more candidates for one of them to get a majority, but such an outcome is not likely unless one of the candidates is stronger than all the others combined.

Nearly all of the county and township offices will be decided at the primaries. The sheriff's fight is almost certain to go over into the general election. Should there be a candidate for superior judge in addition to Judges West and Thomas, that contest may have to wait until November for decision. While there has been a good deal of speculation as to the probable candidacy of R. Y. Williams for superior judge, no announcement of his intentions has been made.

The office of assemblyman does not come under the non-partisan ranking. Each party will nominate its own candidate, and the real fight will come in November. Hans V. Weisel of Anaheim, the Progressive, who was elected to the assembly two years ago, will again be a candidate.

Over at Orange is a man in deep study. He is thinking about running for office. He is also thinking about not running for office. And when a man gets into that situation there is no telling whether or not he will be among the racers or among the spectators next August.

This particular man is Frank S. Trickey. Four years ago Trickey bobbed up out of the grocery business in Santa Ana and made a run for the Republican nomination for county auditor, and he all but got there. C. D. Lester defeated him by the merest bit of a bit.

Two or three weeks ago there was talk that Trickey might run for tax collector or recorder this year. If Trickey runs for anything it will be for auditor. He has no notion of trying for tax collector or recorder, but he has a notion about auditor. If he goes in it will be a three-cornered fight and it will take two campaigns for the winner to get there. Lester is going to run again. That is, like Justice Cox, he never quit running. William C. Jerome is out against him. If Lester, Jerome and Trickey all enter for the primaries, it is conceded by the wise ones that there will be no decision in August.

FAREWELL RECEPTION

Delightful Affair Given for Miss Veenschoten Before Her Coming Departure

Miss Grace Grigsby and Mrs. Fred Morehouse were the genial hostesses last evening at a farewell reception given at the home of Miss Grigsby for Miss Joanna Veenschoten before her departure for her new home at Yucaipa.

About thirty-five guests were present. Although but a short year in Santa Ana, Miss Veenschoten has made many warm friends and has not kept her light under a bushel, but its radiance has shone in her good work in the church, Sabbath school and Epworth League. As vice president of the Delta Alpha class of the First Methodist church she performed her duties most faithfully, as she also did in the mercy and health departments of the church. She will be greatly missed, and the best wishes of many friends will follow her to the Yucaipa Valley home.

Remembrances of Miss Veenschoten were offered in plants and bulbs for the lawn of her new home, and everything with a botanical name was certainly offered last evening, from the fragrant (?) onion to the night-blooming Cerus. As each guest expressed a desire to see her plants in bloom, special inducements to visit her were offered by the honoree in the way of out-door recreations such as bean throwing, "baling" the cows, and boating and bathing in the irrigating ditches.

The guests were much favored by a beautiful piano selection rendered by Miss Virginia Johnstone and Miss Minnie Wild, the latter one of Miss Johnstone's pupils. Before the company departed delicious refreshments were served.

Those present last evening besides the hostess and Miss Veenschoten were Misses Loraine French, Lena and Lillie Confer, Marie Drake, Gertrude Ellsworth, Eunice Flattery, Esther Hendrickson, Frances and Virginia Johnston, Ava Lull, Myrtle Meyer, Emma Nicholson, Edna Masters, Myrtle Nelson, Nellie O'Brien, Gertrude Richardson, May Smith, Nell Turner, Minnie Wild, Cora and Tessie Winters, Harriet Doolittle, Etta Hale, Mesdames J. H. Edwards, Zoe Williams, Albert Shaw, Bertha Murphy, Peter Van Doren, Jesse Craig.

Sunshine Cooked Food Sale
The date of the Sunshine Society cooked food sale was printed erroneously in yesterday's Register. The sale will be held on Wednesday (tomorrow), instead of Thursday as announced. It will be held at Morrill Bros. store, 205 East Fourth street.

The proceeds of the sale will be devoted to charitable purposes, hence the Sunshine Society hopes for a generous patronage from the public. This society is entirely philanthropic, and all money or donations received are devoted to the aid of the needy. Santa Ana is always liberal when charitable demands are made upon its purses.

I. S. P. T. Association to Meet
The Parent-Teacher Association of the Intermediate School will hold its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock in the art room of the commercial building. All members are requested to bring a question that will be answered during the afternoon.

Successful Box Social

At the Christian church last evening one of the most enjoyable of socials was given by the Ladies' Missionary Society of the church. The Sunday school room was beautifully decorated with roses and calla lilies. An orchestra of seven pieces rendered several numbers, and vocal and instrumental solos were contributed by Misses Hewitt and Shepherd and Miss Elizabeth Wright. Readings were given by Leona Taylor and Thelma Girard.

The company then adjourned to the basement to enjoy the contents of boxes of dainty refreshments prepared by each lady, the gentlemen being the purchasers. There was a fine attendance at this social and all present seemed to have a most enjoyable time.

A Merry-Go-Round Trip

A merry party of friends picnicked in Orange County Park last Sunday, those enjoying the day being Mrs. John Morris of 1037 West Second street, as hostess, assisted by her daughters, Misses Nora, Lottie and Catherine; Messrs. and Mesdames L. E. and J. W. Morris and Miss Lalay Barkley, with Capt. and Mrs. Ray Wall and son Charles, Capt. and Mrs. Solie, Capt. and Mrs. Roy Webber and sons, and Walter Zimmerman, the visitors, all hailing from San Pedro, as guests.

En route by automobiles to the park the party visited beautiful Lemon Heights and Hewes Park, but at El Modena the automobiles were deserted for a hay wagon, and with Lon Morris as chaperon a drive was made through the park and to the Irvine ranch house via Peters Canyon. The automobiles met them at the Irvine ranch house for the return trip to Santa Ana. The day was hugely enjoyed.

BEACH GIRLS' REUNION

Merry Evening Passed by Group of Young Matrons and Girls of Club

According to their well established and happy custom the members of a coterie of young matrons and maids who style themselves "The Beach Girls" in memory of a memorable and delightful outing of "auld lang syne," meaning by that several summers ago, met last evening for what, wanting a better word, may be called a reunion. Miss Leslie Smith was the hostess and the pleasant home of the Smiths, 106 South Birch street, presented a most inviting appearance for the reception of the guests. A Valentine motif prevailed, red hearts and cupids being used profusely in house decorations.

A four course dinner, appetizing and prettily appointed, was the first event of the evening. Red geraniums massed in the center of the table made an effective glow of color. An evening of social enjoyment followed the spread.

Besides the hostess, Miss Smith, those present in this reunion of the Beach Girls were Mrs. E. B. Sprague, Mrs. George Cole, Mrs. Jabe Hill, Mrs. D. A. Bear, Mrs. W. G. Compton; Miss Hattie Whidden, Miss Bess Lewis, Miss Alice Trickey, Miss Mary Smart, Miss Esther Patterson.

JUDGE OPPOSED TO CLOSED DOORS IN DIVORCE TRIALS

This morning Superior Judge Thomas declared that on principle he is opposed to holding divorce trials behind closed doors.

The matter came up for remarks when attorneys concerned in the trial of the action of Eells against Eells asked that the public be excluded from hearing the testimony in the case.

While granting the motion, the judge stated that he was convinced that divorce trials should be public, and that parties going into court to settle their marital differences are not entitled to protection from the public, so far as knowledge of their family affairs are concerned.

The judge takes the view that there would be fewer divorce actions were the full light of publicity turned upon all cases.

This morning he refused an order excluding newspaper reporters from the courtroom during the progress of the case.

The husband in the case asserts that his wife has set a rather fast pace, and that her actions have constituted cruelty under the meaning of the word in law. The wife replies with counter-charges of a serious nature.

George Eells, the plaintiff, has lived at Garden Grove since 1888, and Edith Eells, the defendant, since 1909. Eells knew the woman only three months before he married her. It was Mrs. Eells' testimony that Mrs. Eells became intoxicated a number of times. Williams & Rutan represent Eells and Randall & Gains represent Mrs. Eells.

The absence of Norman Tate, the present manager.

Mrs. Madeline Garretson and sister Miss Ethel Merritt, of Wamego, Kansas, are the house guests of Mrs. J. R. Paine, 1818 North Main street. The ladies are cousins of Mrs. Paine and her sister, Miss Elizabeth Easton.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Smith of 1516 Willets street are enjoying a visit from an old acquaintance, Mr. Richard Trice, formerly of New Brunswick, but now a resident of North Dakota. Mr. Trice is here for a few days only.

Mrs. E. B. Norman and Mrs. F. H. McElree will be guests at a banquet to be given this evening by the W. C. T. U. ladies of Anaheim to the teachers of the Anaheim schools. Mrs. Norman will make an address to the teachers.

Miss Opal Baker has gone to Los Angeles for a two weeks' visit with friends.

Mrs. Nellie Young was a forenoon visitor to Los Angeles.

Mrs. John McFadden made a trip to Los Angeles this morning.

W. A. Benjamin was a business visitor to Los Angeles today.

A. J. Perkins boarded an early Pacific Electric car this morning for Los Angeles.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Your Hair Gets Soft, Fluffy and Luxuriant at Once

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fan out, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. It eventually—why not now?—Advertisement.

AMUSEMENTS

Novel Act at Clune's

Patrons of Clune's Santa Ana Theater were again treated to a good program last evening. There was a full house at both performances and everybody seemed well pleased at the various offerings of the artists.

As is always the case at this theater the music by the orchestra was very entertaining, the numbers being both classic and popular.

A comedy sketch entitled "Just Plain Folks" was ably presented by McKenzie and Heazlett. The acting was very good, especially that of the male member of the company. Go and see "Hiram" make the biscuits. It will knock out that grouchy feeling from your system, and the way Hiram and his wife both hide their government bonds for protection against burglary and then accidentally give them away makes up a really funny story.

A novel act is the one presented by the Raymonds. The act is billed as the "T. U. T. Limited." This the porter explained as "Take Your Time Limited." At the end of the act is the novel part. In the center of the stage is represented the end of a Pullman observation car, with the moving picture screen at the background. As the principals sing a song a motion picture taken from the back of a real train is displayed. This gives a very realistic stage setting of a Pullman car flying along a track. It is really a very good set up and one which you will enjoy.

The other motion pictures were up to the regular high standard set by this house, and altogether this is a very good program.

Watch out for the bill for the latter part of the week; the management says there will be some good acts.

PROGRESSIVES ORGANIZING A CLUB LOCALLY

Conference Held Last Night
—Committee to Prepare Constitution

As part of a plan to organize a Progressive club in each of the five supervisory districts of Orange county, a conference of about thirty-five Progressives was held at the City Hall last night. The conference was a preliminary meeting, and upon Saturday night of this week a public meeting will be held for the purpose of securing a permanent organization.

The meeting at the city hall was on invitation by telephone messages. S. J. Jackman, chairman of the Progressive County Central Committee, called the meeting to order. It was the opinion of those present that a club for the first supervisory district, which has the same boundaries as the city of Santa Ana, should be formed.

W. L. Grubb was elected temporary chairman and M. A. Cain temporary secretary. The chairman appointed on a committee to prepare a constitution and by-laws the following: Mrs. W. B. Tedford, Mrs. W. L. Grubb, Steele Finley, C. S. Crookshank, W. A. Zimmerman and M. A. Cain. This committee will make its report at the meeting Saturday night.

$100,000 OFFER FOR CALEXICO RANCH IS TURNED DOWN

CALEXICO, Feb. 9.—Edward Dool would rather own his 800-acre ranch two and one-half miles west of Calexico, than have $100,000 cash for it. He was offered this large sum of money a day or two ago for his land but refused it. One hundred and seventy acres of the land has never been leveled, but it all looks as good to Mr. Dool as to the party wishing to buy it.

If he had accepted this offer, the cash for the ranch would have brought in $10,000 a year at the customary rate of interest in Imperial Valley, which would be enough for most people to live on quite nicely.

For a piece of land which ten years ago had no value at all, this is a very nice valuation. And Imperial Valley is made up of just such pieces of property.

WEALTH OF HAIR

Parisian Sage Makes Thin, Lifeless Hair Soft and Abundant

Beautiful hair, fluffy, lustrous, abundant and free from dandruff, is one of woman's greatest charms—it's her main delight—yet so many of the fair sex have streaked, thin and lifeless hair, and think there is no remedy. Beautiful hair is largely a matter of attention. Parisian Sage frequently applied and well rubbed into the scalp works wonders. Try it today, and you will be surprised with the result—not only will the hair become abundant, soft, fluffy, radiant with life, but really doubly beautiful.

Parisian Sage supplies hair and scalp needs. It surely removes dandruff with one application, stops itching head and cleanses the hair of all dirt and excessive oil.

All drug and toilet counters sell Parisian Sage in fifty cent bottles. Look for the trade mark—"The Girl with the Auburn Hair." Try at least one bottle from Rowley Drug Co. This store will refund the money if you are not satisfied.—Advertisement.

PRICE MAINTENANCE DISCUSSED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Price maintenance was expected to be the most important subject under discussion today at the opening sessions of the annual meeting of the National Chamber of Commerce of the United States at the Hotel Willard. Directors of the National Chamber decided at their last meeting held at Rochester on December 10, that the matter of price maintenance, because it falls within the scope of anti-trust legislation, should be discussed by the National Chamber as a whole. The meeting will continue tomorrow and Thursday. Several hundred delegates from all sections of the country are in attendance.

Wants a Speed Job

Ben F. Loftin of Fullerton has applied to the Board of Supervisors for appointment as a motorcycle officer. His letter states that the matter was taken up a short time ago, and at that time the supervisors could not find any provision authorizing it to make such an appointment. Loftin hopes that later investigation may have changed the situation. However, there is no change.

No Second Trial

There will be no second trial of Bryant of Los Angeles, charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill C. M. Fender of Buena Park. Bryant paid a fine of $100 for striking Hatfield of West Anaheim with a gun, and was then tried in the superior court for threatening Fender. Bryant and Hatfield had a dispute over the ownership of a duck that fell as both men shot. On the first trial, the jury disagreed eight for acquittal and four for conviction. The district attorney's office has decided to dismiss the case.

Will is Filed

Today the will of Amos Wright, for many years leader of the Prohibition party in this county, was filed for probate. Annie P. Ames and Mary F. Key are petitioners for letters, and are represented by Attorneys West, Eden & Koepsel. The estate is valued at $1550.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT

ROWELL WINS IN AUTO CASE

Justice Cox Decides that Local Dealer Has Commissions Coming

Justice Cox has given judgment of $250 in favor of W. C. Rowell, a Santa Ana automobile dealer, against the W. K. Cowan Co. of Los Angeles. The Cowan company brought the suit, asking judgment of $239 against Rowell. Rowell stated that whenever some of those to whom he had sold a Rambler car went to the shop in Los Angeles for adjustments or claims under a guarantee, the Cowan company charged the time and repairs up to Rowell and expected him to pay. Rowan declined. The company then withheld commissions. Rowell's cross complaint asked for $421. Justice Cox gave judgment in favor of Rowell for $250.

Burglary Case

Jesus Caminero was today held to answer for trial in the superior court on a charge of burglarizing Mrs. Goldie Furr's house at Huntington Beach on Nov. 24. Caminero was arrested by Detective T. G. Cervantes of Long Beach along with five other Mexicans alleged to be members of an organized gang of Mexican thieves. One of the gang has been sent to San Quentin and four others are in Los Angeles awaiting trial. Caminero is charged with stealing a gold necklace and other articles from the Huntington Beach residence.

SHORTRIDGE IS TO SPEAK HERE

Samuel Shortridge of San Francisco is to speak in Santa Ana tomorrow night. His address will be delivered at the Princess Theater, formerly called the Bell Theater.

Shortridge is a Republican and is a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator. Whether he will present his claims for that position or merely make a general campaign speech has not been announced.

A band has been employed to give a concert on the street previous to the opening of the meeting. It is understood that C. C. Chapman of Placentia is going to be chairman of the meeting.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

GETS EIGHT BIDS FOR BUILDING ON THE CANYON ROAD

This afternoon the Board of Supervisors opened bids for the construction of 2.4 miles of road in the Santa Ana canyon adjoining the Riverside county line. The bids were referred to the Highway Commission engineers for checking over with the engineer's estimate of dirt to be moved. Several weeks ago bids were received for work on this same section of county good roads, but a revision of plans was found necessary in order to get the cost lower. Under the former bids, the cost would have run up to $55,000.

DETROIT VOTES ON RADICAL CHANGES

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 10.—After one of the most spirited campaigns in the history of local politics, voters of Detroit went to the polls today to ratify or reject the proposed new city charter, written last fall by a board of charter commissioners. Early indications were that voting would be heavy. The proposed charter is considered more or less of a compromise between the demands of those who wanted as few changes as possible in the old document, but it leans to the radical rather than the conservative side.

It provides for a separation of city from state and national elections; the election of city officials every four years on a non-partisan ballot with a preferential feature, permitting citizens to vote for second and third choices; a concentration of power in the hands of the mayor, who, like other city officials, is made subject to the recall; the initiative and referendum; municipal ownership of the gas plant and the extension of the public lighting service to private consumers and control of telephone rates and service by the common council. City ownership of the street car lines was authorized at a special election last April, but a new charter amendment on that subject strengthens the old provisions.

The proposed charter provides that the common council shall be cut from 36 to 21 members, one from each city ward. The board of estimates is abolished and control over the budget given to the council and mayor. A minimum wage of $2.50 a day on all city work, or by contractors is provided. A department of labor welfare is created, to have general charge of all labor interests and to arbitrate disputes between employer and employee.

FREE SITE IS OFFERED CITY FOR CITY HALL

Huntington Beach Has Been Asked to Receive Gift of $15,000

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 9.—The Huntington Beach Company has offered free to this city a site for a City hall and other municipal buildings. The site is situated on Seventeenth street, and is valued at $15,000. No action towards its acceptance has yet been taken by the City Trustees.

There will be three candidates for the office of city clerk when the election is held in April. They are the present incumbent, C. E. Lavering, and Charles R. Nutt and J. B. Irwin. The place pays $50 a month.

To Enlarge Plant
The Pacific Oil Cloth & Linoleum Company has decided upon an enlargement of its plant at Huntington Beach. Its buildings are now being planned to cover fifteen acres instead of five acres, as originally proposed. The working capital has, it is announced, been correspondingly increased. Large quantities of material are being hauled to the site, and work has started on the superstructure of the first buildings.

All the machinery of the plant will be built in this state, principally in Los Angeles, where orders have already been placed with the Llewellyn Iron Works and other factories. The majority of the raw material to be used will also be secured in California and Pacific Coast points. The motive power will be electricity, secured from the Pacific Light and Power Company, which has just entered Huntington Beach.

The operation of the plant, it is said, will require about 300 men. About thirty experienced men will have charge of the different divisions of the work, the remainder of the employees being unskilled laborers. The plant will be the first and the only factory of its kind in the west. Gustav Frenkel will be assisted by George Hedge in the management of the factory.

MONTGOMERY HOLDS YORBA LINDA AUCTION

YORBA LINDA, Feb. 10.—A. Montgomery, the painter, and family visited old friends, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Seamans, at Yorba Linda a few weeks ago, and out of this visit has grown quite a friendship between the Montgomerys and the people of Yorba Linda.

On Saturday evening Mr. Montgomery was introduced by Rev. W. H.
Bertram, pastor of the church. Mr.
Montgomery gave one of his lectures from the subject "Indigenous American Art" before one of the largest audiences yet assembled in Yorba Linda. The church was crowded to the limit with a thoroughly appreciative audience.

There was enough humor in the lecture to insure its identity as "Mont-gomeryesque," and in addition there was deep philosophy, poetic eloquence and power in driving home the facts of the subject.

As soon as the lecture was finished,
Mr. Montgomery asked the ushers to pass the baskets and gather the silver offering for the piano fund which was the purpose of the undertaking. Then he, in his usual happy and genial manner, sprung the surprise of the evening which was the presentation of several useful and handsome gifts from Los Angeles merchants.

All of these gifts were sold at auction by Montgomery and brought the retail price or more in each case, which proved to be a splendid item in the piano fund.

In closing Mr. Montgomery very generously presented two of his handsome paintings, one of Illinois corn and one of California apples, and sold them in the same way for the cause.

In the final count when the silver offering, the subscription list, the gift auction, and the paintings were assembled into the fund there was the happy score of over $150.

Mr. Montgomery had won a life membership in the friendship roll of the Yorba Linda homes. The undertaking was a success from every point of view.

COUNTY'S OIL FIELDS GAIN GUSHER FAME

Output of Wells of the County Increased by Recent Marvels

FULLERTON, Feb. 9.—Fullerton oil field is forging to the front as a gusher section, and the record of big wells during the past few months has been an enviable one. The output of the district has been greatly increased during this period and the latest developments promise an even more rapid growth in production.

Chief among the big producers still remains the Standard Oil Company's Emery well which is now doing about 7500 barrels a day. The company also has several other wells on this tract, which in the aggregate yield over 12,000 barrels daily, besides its Murphy lease output. Preparations are also being made to bring in some of the wells which are now nearly completed.

The most sensational of the recent gushers has been the Union Oil Company's big well on the Stearns lease in Brea Canyon. This producer is doing about 3000 barrels per day. Near by the Brea Canyon Oil Company's
No. 11a is all but finished, and will probably equal in capacity the great Union well.

The Amalgamated Oil Company's
new well, which has been so beneficial in proving up that company's territory, is still doing about 600 barrels daily.
The oil is 25 gravity. About a mile distant, the California-Oklahoma Company's well is making a good record for itself, with a production of nearly 1000 barrels a day, the oil being 23.5 gravity.

Besides these new wells, the Birch Oil Company's famous gusher continues flowing about 1500 barrels daily, while the Columbia Producing Company's well on the Orange lease is making about 1200 barrels.

To Build Storage Tanks

The California Oil Fields Oil Company, which is one of the companies taken over by the Royal Dutch-Shell combine, will erect twenty steel storage tanks of a total capacity of 1,100,000 barrels in the Coalina field. The contracts, which have been filed for record with the recorder of Fresno County, call for the expenditure of nearly $400,000, and the work of constructing the tanks will start immediately. The contracts recorded are as follows:

Petroleum Iron Works of Sharon, Pa., for the construction of five steel storage tanks of 55,000 barrels capacity each, to be erected on the southwest quarter of 4-20-16, for $16,400 per tank.

Lacy Manufacturing Company of Los Angeles, for ten steel tanks of 55,000 barrels capacity, each at $16,250.

Llewellyn Iron Works of Los Angeles, for five steel storage tanks of 55,000 barrels capacity at $15,350 per tank.

The fourth contract is with the Shattuck & Nimmo Warehouse Company for unloading and hauling of material and camp equipment, and grading and excavating for tank sites, for approximately $15,393. The four contracts call for expenditures as follows:

Sharon contract $22,000
Lacy contract 162,500
Llewellyn contract 79,250
Hauling and grading 15,393
Total $339,143

Money Under New System

The president of one of the largest trust companies in the east, talking of the new currency system, said:

"The mountains which people are raising, with reference to the operation of the Federal Reserve act, are very far in the distance. There will be no scarcity of money, and no less money even for Stock Exchange purposes. The only difference will be that money of the Federal Reserve Banks will not be so liquid. Stock Exchange houses will have to go into the market and bid for their money. In this way, instead of getting call money at the very lowest rate, they will probably have to make short loans—say of two weeks.

"I have not been consulted and do not know anything of a proposed big independent bank, but my opinion is that no such thing is in contemplation. I want to emphasize again, in this connection, that under the operation of the Federal Reserve act there will be plenty of money for all legitimate purposes, including Stock Exchange needs.

"All our bankers, or any other reasonable person, has to do, is to refer to London. No strong bank in London would think of going to the Bank of England for rediscunt. That would be an admission of weakness. When any London bank wants to raise money by rediscunt, the bankers go into the open market and can always obtain there all the money they require. Operations of the Federal Reserve act in this country will be somewhat similar."

Two First Rank Events

Sir Felix Schuster, governor of the Union of London and Smith's Bank, London, in his review of the financial and trade outlook, declares that the most important events in 1913 in the commercial world were the passage by the Congress of the United States of the tariff act and the Federal reserve act. He said:

"Both measures must have far-reaching consequences, for both have made the United States a more formidable competitor than ever before, not only as regards international commerce, but as regards London's position as the center of international banking. I have no doubt commerce will be stimulated by these enactments and Great Britain's trade with the United States will be increased, to the advantage of both nations.

"If, as appears probable, the differences between the United States government and the large trading corporations which have been weighing so heavily on enterprise for some years past, can be adjusted in an equitable manner, a new era of progress and development seems to be in store for the United States, which cannot fail to be of vast importance to British markets and to the money markets of Europe."

Michigan's Blue Sky Law Void

The Michigan blue sky law, which became effective December 15, 1913, and under which the State was given power to hold up sales of bonds for thirty days, has been declared unconstitutional in a decision handed down by the Federal Court sitting at Detroit. The decision is very sweeping. The court in rendering its opinion said it is an act beyond the police power of the State, is in violation of interstate commerce and does not come within the due process of law provision of the United States constitution.

Million Dollar Oil Deal

Louis Titus has purchased from the Mays Consolidated Oil Company 500 acres of oil land in the heart of the gusher district in the Midway field at a price that exceeds a million dollars.

The property involved in the deal is situated in Sections 28 and 30, and contains some of the best producing oil wells in the Midway district. Titus, it is said, plans to sink new wells at once. He has been a successful oil operator, having organized the North American Oil Consolidated and the Section Two Syndicate Company.

Reynolds Predicts Prosperity

George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial National Bank, Chicago, now in Pasadena, and Los Angeles, to be absent several weeks, away to Los Angeles, to be absent several weeks, expressed the belief on leaving Chicago that good times are in prospect and that ease in money will continue. "I am going away to play as hard as I worked during the last year," he said. "I feel that something was accomplished for the west under the new currency law."

Revival Steel Industry

Owing to the big revival in the steel industry the United States Steel Corporation has set apart $15,000,000 for the betterment of plant, the first appropriation of its kind since the final quarter in 1910. The annual statement of the corporation showed that it had more than earned its fixed charges during the year 1913, although during the last quarter a deficit of more than $1,000,000 after payment of fixed charges and dividends was shown, the surplus for the three preceding quarters amounting to $32,337,743. Officials of the company say that business has increased in marked degree since the beginning of the year and this month operations are expected to show decided improvement over the last two months of 1913.

Earnings for the last quarter of 1913 aggregated $25,508,568, with total earnings of $23,036,349 and net income of $17,263,625. These returns, while somewhat under forecasts, compared with $40,933,531 earnings, $38,450,400 total earnings and $29,622,186 net income in the preceding quarter. Our Imports and Exports Imports and exports to the aggregate value of $4,786,068, yielding the government $884,171.5, were handled in the local customs district during the calendar year of 1913, according to a statistical report compiled by Collector J. B. Elliott of the Los Angeles district. The imports amounted to $3,877,456, of which duties were collected on $2,079,351. During the twelve months goods to the value of $2,909,241 were received at the local port, while the six months in which other ports were operated under the supervision of the Los Angeles office show total importations at Calexico of $572,185 and $372,591 at San Diego.

Mexican commodities were of greatest valuation, the total having reached $765,318. Japan was second with goods valued at $578,639, with Germany a close third. The German goods received were valued in the aggregate at $508,632. England was fourth with $355,309, and Canada shipped in goods valued at $190,202.

The five principal imports were: Lumber, $399,992; coffee, $266,525; cotton, $227,370. wines and liquors, $252,748, and fertilizers, $94,823.

Of the exports, valued in the aggregate at $908,612, fruits took the lead, the total of exported fruits having been registered at $243,319. Live stock was second. Cattle, horses, mules and other animals valued at $146,598 were exported. The value of oils shipped from the local harbor reached $88,363, while the aggregate value of iron and steel reached $82,133.

The exports consigned to Mexican ports amounted to $405,269. France received goods valued at $158,497. The shipments to Canada aggregated $98,423, while those consigned to Chilean ports were valued at $73,512.

Prefers Uncle Sam to State

Speaking of the several measures now before Congress which propose to regulate "big business," George J. Gould says: "I am optimistic on business. I feel encouraged. Sentiment is more cheerful, and I believe that business will be better. The situation depends largely upon Washington.

"I would much prefer to have the issuance of securities regulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission than by a large number of State Commissions. The Government will be in virtual control of the railroads and must assume the responsibility that goes with the powers that it possesses or that are likely to be given before very long. I do not think that the doing away with interlocking directorates will prove nearly so troublesome or disturbing to the corporations as has been feared in some circles."

Blue Sky Law

A dispatch from Bismarck, North Dakota, says: "During the first six months under the 'blue sky' law of North Dakota less than fifteen out of more than thirty investment companies applying for admission complied with the requirements of the statute. Corporations must give the Secretary of State the power of attorney in the matter of accepting service in civil procedure. There must be on file with the bank examiner copies of the contracts, bonds and other instruments which a company soliciting the sale of stock proposes to make with buyers. A statement of actual financial condition is also required."

Testing a Nevada Law

A friendly case has begun in Tonopah to test the constitutionality of the law that became effective January 1st requiring all miners to be able to read and write English in order to obtain employment. M. R. Blackburn, superintendent of the Tonopah Mining Company, is charged in the complaint with having violated the law by employing miners who had no knowledge of English. The case was instituted at the instance of the State Mine Operators' Association.

Another Big Pipe Line

Construction has begun on the eight-inch pipe line from Northern Station of the Standard Oil Company in the Fullerton field to El Segundo, the third line from that field to the big refining plant on the sea, the other two being six-inch lines with a daily capacity of 20,000 barrels. The new line will cost about $200,000.

Only Two Banks Quit

Of the 7,000 national banks in the United States only two have so far notified the Treasury Department that they do not expect to enter the new Federal reserve system and will forfeit their charters. Nearly 6,000 banks have signified in formal manner their intention to enter the system.

STANFORD PLANNING FOR ATHLETIC MEET

Athletes from Preparatory Schools All Over Coast to Be There

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 7.

—In 1906, the board of governors of the Stanford Interscholastic Athletic Association formulated plans for a track and field meet, which should bring together in friendly rivalry the athletes and schools of the Pacific Coast. In accordance with the precedent thus established, the ninth event of its kind will be held on the Stanford oval on the morning and afternoon of April 11, 1914. In addition to the track contest, the Association has arranged for an interscholastic tennis tournament of a similar nature, and racket-wielders who enter the tournament will be governed by the same eligibility rules as prevail in the track and field meet.

Letters explaining the nature and advantages of the meet have been sent to the principals of the most of the high schools in California, Oregon, Idaho, Washington, Utah, Arizona, and Nevada, inviting the schools in their charge to enter the competition. From the wholesome influence which this institution has exerted upon the athletic ideals of western high schools, and taking into consideration the large entry of last year and the added features which will distinguish the event this spring, it is expected that a record number of contestants will signify their intention of participating in the meet.

Membership in the Stanford Interscholastic Association is prerequisite to competition in the meet. This association is composed of most of the leading public and private preparatory schools of the Pacific Coast, and only those institutions whose athletic teams hold a reputation for good, clean sportsmanship are admitted as members. A single application, if accepted, insures permanent membership in the association.

Last year the Stanford Student Body assumed the responsibility of financing the meet. Economical management by the board of governors has cut the expenses to a minimum, and it is one of the chief duties of the board to present to the student body a yearly budget covering the financial obligations incurred in conducting the meet. Notwithstanding the careful administration of the business end of the enterprise, expenses have increased yearly. The payment of this increased burden, however, has been permanently guaranteed by the action of the student body in officially recognizing the event, and the wisdom of this move was fully demonstrated by the success of last year's meet, which far surpassed those of former years in the size of the entry list and the interest it aroused throughout the state.

The student body as a whole will do its utmost to give its guests a good time, and preparations are already being made for their entertainment. The entire campus will be put at the disposal of the youthful visitors and no social activities which might in any way detract from their pleasure have been scheduled for that weekend.

Entry blanks for the meet will not be sent to the various institutions until the track captains in the high schools have been informed of the regulations governing the event and the trophies to be awarded. Several applications to enter the meet have already been received, however, and a full list will be published later.

The tennis tournament will be held simultaneously with the track and field meet. Last year's entry list of forty-five men will in all probability be exceeded at the present time, consequently preliminary matches will be played off the entire day previous to the races on the oval. Finals are scheduled for the morning of April 11.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE— DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.
